Cal EOC Incident – 2014 Drought

- SOC / Inland REOC remains activated in support of 2014 Drought

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

Isolated, mostly dry thunderstorms will affect portions of Mendocino, southern Humboldt, and southern Trinity counties this morning. The focus of convection will shift toward the Trinity Alps this afternoon, where isolated to scattered thunderstorms are expected. The Redwood Coast will see morning low clouds and patchy fog followed by partial afternoon clearing.

San Francisco Weather:

Monsoon/subtropical moisture will continue to filter in over the forecast area today. The air mass will begin to dry tonight and by Thursday for slightly cooler and less humid conditions. Then, near normal temperatures can be expected through the remainder of the week.

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY

Sacramento Weather:

Moisture surge will bring a few sprinkles and thunderstorms to portions of interior northern California today and Thursday, and again potentially next week. Hot afternoon temperatures continue.

Hanford Weather:

A surge of tropical moisture will bring some sprinkles to the lower elevations through late this morning and increased high clouds over our area today. A dry southwest flow will bring a clearing trend tonight through the remainder of the week and thunderstorms will be confined to the higher elevations of the Sierra as a result. Temperatures will remain hot through the remainder of the week.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

Increasing tropical moisture will bring partly to mostly cloudy skies to the area today as well as a small chance of showers or thunderstorms to the mountains and antelope valley this afternoon. Temperatures will remain above normal through Friday, with some cooling expected this weekend into early next week.

Extreme Southwestern California Including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

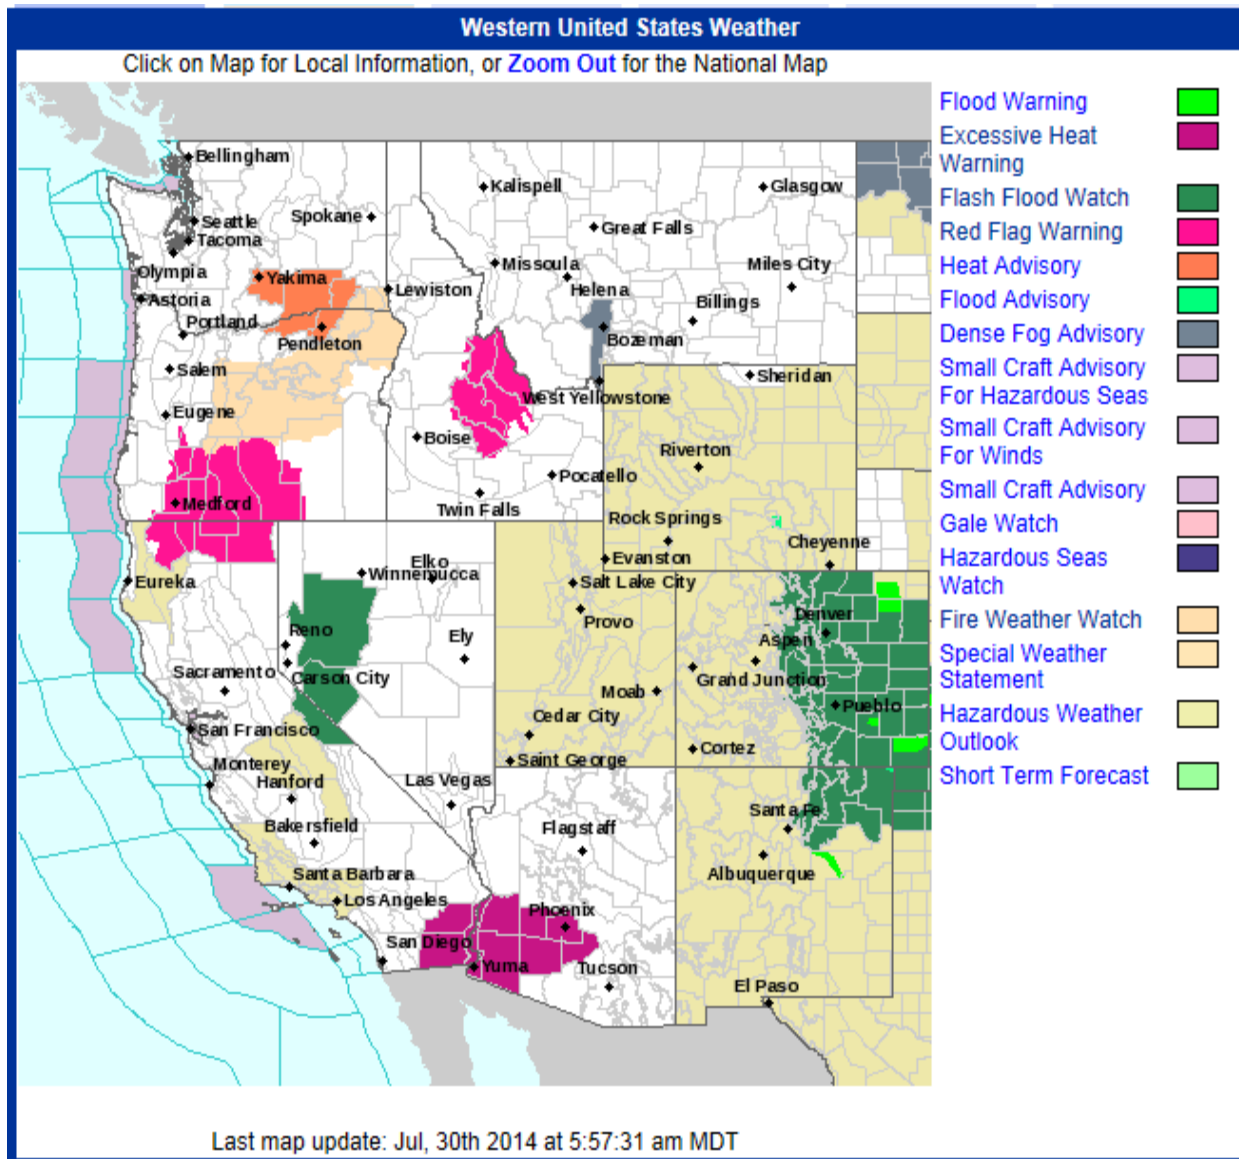

Drier weather will prevail through Thursday with above average temperatures for inland areas. For Friday through Sunday, monsoonal moisture may return with a renewed chance of mainly afternoon and evening thunderstorms mainly in the mountains and deserts. Drier weather will return early next week. The marine layer and weak onshore flow will bring patchy late night and early morning low clouds and fog near the coast.

Southeast California Weather:

There will be a break in the monsoon through Thursday, with decreased chances of showers and thunderstorms. Consequently, temperatures will continue their upward trend and highs in the 110-115 range will be common across the deserts through Thursday. A return to a more typical monsoon regime is expected late Friday into the weekend as showers and thunderstorms are once again expected across the region.

CAL OES ACTIVATIONS

Cal EOC Incident – 2014 Drought

- The SOC is activated at Level 2 in support of the Drought State of Emergency from 0800-1700 hours daily.
- The Inland REOC is activated at Level 2 from 0800-1700 Monday through Friday or as needed.
- The Southern REOC is activated at Level 1.
- The Santa Barbara County OA EOC is activated at Level 2 to be handled by the duty officer for the purpose of monitoring activities and gaining situational awareness. The operational period is Monday – Friday, 0800-1700 hours.

Situational Summary

On January 17, 2014 Governor Edmund G. Brown proclaimed a State of Emergency and directed state officials to take all necessary actions to prepare for drought conditions. The State Operation Center (SOC) is activated to implement objectives in support of the Governor's priorities. The lack of winter rain and snowfall has resulted in extremely dry conditions in many parts of the State. Reservoir levels are down significantly from where they should be on average for this time of year. If conditions continue severe impacts to municipal water supplies, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities are likely in store for the State over the next few months. Negative economic impacts will also result.

The drought could result in severe impacts to the municipal water supplies, wells, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities for several months. The SOC continues to be activated to monitor the situation statewide, and support regional and local operational areas.

- On 7/15/14 the State Water Resources Control Board passed a new emergency regulation to reduce out door urban water use. The regulation makes an exception for health and safety circumstances. Local agencies can ask courts to fine water users up to $500.00 a day and the SWRCB can fine water agencies up to $10,000.00 per day. The adopted regulations are expected to go into effect by August 1, 2014 and remain in effect for 270 days.

http://www.waterboards.ca.gov/publications_forms/publications/factsheets/docs/emergregsurban_fs072214.pdf

- Current Reservoir Levels continue to decline. As of July 28, the levels are: Don Pedro 45%; Exchequer 22%; Folsom Lake 43%; Lake Oroville 37%; Millerton Lake 54%; New Melones 27%; Pine Flat 18%; San Luis 24%; Lake Shasta 36%; and Trinity Lake 37%.

Situational Summary

- Drought Top Environmental Concern of Californians, PPIC Report Finds: A newly released survey by the Public Policy Institute of California (PPIC) reveals that drought and wildfires are at the top of the list of public worries about the impacts of global warming. The survey also found that 75% of respondents believe public water agencies should require residents to reduce water use.

- The 2014 Governor Drought Task Force continues to meet regularly to take actions that conserve water and coordinate state response to the drought.
- Cal OES continues to gather drought-related costs from state agencies and local governments.
- The DWR has released a list of unmonitored high and medium priority groundwater basins. As outlined in California's Water Code, some counties and groundwater management agencies in unmonitored basins may be ineligible for water grants and loans administered by the state.
